

Montgomery County, Maryland
Oaths of Allegiance and Enumeration of Men over 18<sup>1</sup>

John D. Sinks
26 February 2024

The State of Maryland enacted “An Act for the better security of the government,” in the session of the legislature beginning 31 Oct. 1777 and ending 3 Dec. 1777.<sup>2</sup> This required free men over 18 to take the oath of fidelity to the state by 1 March 1778, allowing every “quaker, menonist or dunker” to declare and affirm rather than swear allegiance, with severe restrictions on those who failed or refused to do so. It also required an enumeration of men over 18. Comparing the enumeration to the returns of those who swore or affirmed fidelity enabled the county to treble tax non-jurists and restricted in their rights.

Montgomery County, Maryland made a copy of those who swore or affirmed fidelity in Court Records 1777-1781 followed by an enumeration of men 18 and over for the County in Court Record 1777-1781 (Maryland State Archives, Court Proceedings, C1137-1). The former list provides evidence of Revolutionary service; the latter list provides evidence of residence. These documents are of special interest to the District of Columbia SAR because portions of the District were formed from Montgomery County in 1790.

Seventeen returns of oaths and affirmations of fidelity are recorded in the court record.

In Court		71

The Maryland State Archives in the Governor and Council records has the separate returns for the justices (S963-56 through S963-66), but no return for oaths taken in Court.<sup>3</sup>

The 1778 enumeration of Montgomery divided the county into ten hundreds. The Linganore Hundred is missing.<sup>4</sup> The total number of men in each hundred was listed.

Name of Hundred	Number of Men	Pages
George Town	91	71
Lower Potomack	175	72-73
North West	102	73
Upper Newfoundland	139	73-74
Rock Creek	159	74-75
Seneca	164	75-76
Lower Newfoundland	162	76-77
Upper Potomack	202	77-78
Sugar Loaf	300	78-80
Sugarland	309	80-81

A total of 1,803 men were enumerated in the ten hundreds. Some additional men would have been out of the state or exempt by virtue of on active military duty.

<sup>3</sup> The return of James Offutt (S963-57) has been erroneously indexed as the return of "Mr. Hull." The signature on the return is very difficult to read, but is "J. Offutt." Those listed in S963-57 as taking the oath of fidelity match taking the oath under James Offutt in Court Record 1777-1781 and a "Mr. Hull" has not been found who was in a position of authority to administer oaths of fidelity.

<sup>4</sup> The Linganore Hundred was included in the 1777 Montgomery County Levy List (Maryland State Archives, C1131-1) and was combined into District 3 in the 1783 Montgomery County Tax List (Maryland State Archives, S1005-108-63).
